WOODSONGS MUSEUM of Appalachia

Front Porch
Gathering

The WoodSongs Gathering is a two day celebration of organic, rural music, the artists who make it and the challenges they face. It's for anyone who love to play and perform. We call them "Song Farmers."

At the WoodSongs Gathering there will be several log cabin stages for musicians and songwriters, a Children's stage, Workshops where you will learn about building community with your music, using social media as a musician, how to start your own hometown concert series and more. If you play an instrument, bring it!

The Gathering is supported in part by a grant from
